Moreover, less than 1 percent of the milk thistle takers stopped taking the herb because of side effects, such as stomach upset, nausea, and light diarrhea.

Muscle relaxants may also be used, but their benefit in low back pain is not clear.